Dr. Dee Fink and Dr. Jeff Gritzner served together in the first Peace Corps Program in Iran (1962-1964). In this presentation, they will share some of their experiences and pictures from their time there and will discuss the impact that the experience had upon them as young men just starting their life journey.

Dr. Dee Fink received his PhD from the University of Chicago in 1976 and started teaching at the University of Oklahoma the same year. Dr. Fink founded the Instructional Development Program at OU in 1979 and served as its director until his retirement in 2005.

Dr. Jeff Gritzner received his PhD from the University of Chicago in 1986. Early in his career, he served as a senior program officer at the National Academy of Sciences and a senior associate at the World Resources Institute. He later directed the Public Policy Research Institute at the University of Montana, and chaired the Department of Geography and Asian Studies Program until his retirement in 2013.

CIS is committed to a diverse, equitable and inclusive campus environment. This event is part of an on-going series of discussions to enhance awareness about diversity, equity and inclusion issues.
