TULSA ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE – The book and pie fair did not do as well this year as last. The day of the week could have something to do with it. It was held on a Friday this year and a Wednesday the year before. The event took in $501.00 this year.

The bench for the new library has arrived. The plaque going on the bench is not ready yet.

Staff week had a few miscommunications but overall went very well. This week's events were for the staff only. Some departments may have thought it was for residents, students, and faculty so they ran out of food/drinks. Most employees were very excited. The floats went over well, the pretzels were a big success, the salsa dancing was great, but not very many showed up to watch.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

IX. NEW BUSINESS
