

THE ROLE OF ENERGY IN EMPOWERING ISIS

and Fueling the Conflict in the Middle East

a lecture and lunch with

Daniel Ahn

Senior Advisor to the Chief Economist, US Department of State

Tuesday, September 8, 2015 • Noon

Oklahoma Memorial Union, Scholars Room

RSVP to rkmartin@ou.edu by September 3

Dr. Daniel Ahn is Senior Advisor to the Chief Economist at the US Department of State, where he is responsible for research and policy analysis on a wide range of international economics and finance issues. Previously, he led policy analysis on energy issues at the State Department's Bureau of Energy Resources.

He is also a Professorial Lecturer at Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies and an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Economics at Georgetown University, where he teaches graduate courses on Energy Economics and Finance.

This lecture and lunch is part of the "Energy, Climate and Security" Presidential Dream Course. Visit www.ou.edu/dias for more information on all the events affiliated with this course.

The UNIVERSITY of OKLAHOMA
College of International Studies
Department of International and Area Studies

Funding to support IAS 3653.OO1 "Energy, Climate and Security" as a Presidential Dream Course and these guest lecturers is made possible by the Office of the President. All events are free and open to the public. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact International and Area Studies at 405-325-1584.