Each year, a special lecture is given in memory of Harry G. Fair, an outstanding OU alumnus. Harry G. Fair was born in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, on June 3, 1916. He received the B.S. in Chemical Engineering in 1939. He joined Phillips Petroleum Company in 1939 and worked his way up to Vice President for Supply and Transportation, with responsibility for world-wide exchange of crude oil and all transportation facilities. In 1966 he joined the M. W. Kellogg Company as Executive Vice President, in charge of all engineering activities and became Executive Vice President of Pullman, Inc., in 1968. He was President of Coastal States Gas Corporation from 1971 until the time of his death on July 27, 1974. Harry G. Fair was active in service to society and to his alma mater. He was a member of a number of professional societies and was a licensed professional engineer.

This lecture is made possible by the Harry G. Fair Memorial Fund contributed by his widow, Jane Swift Fair. Arrangements are made by the School of Chemical Engineering and Materials Science.

Stanley Learned is the former President and Chief Executive Officer of Phillips Petroleum Company. He was born November 5, 1902, in Lawrence, Kansas. He received a B.S. degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Kansas in 1924. He joined the Phillips Petroleum Company in 1924 as a member of the Engineering Department where he was involved in many projects, including construction of the first long distance gasoline pipeline. During the Second World War, he was in charge of construction of a large butadiene plant. In 1944, Mr. Learned became Vice Chairman of the Operating Committee of Phillips Petroleum Company, and in 1949 he became Vice President and joined the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee. He served as Executive Vice President from 1951 through 1962, when he became Phillips' President. He served as President and Chief Executive Officer from 1964 until his retirement in 1968. He remains active as a member of the boards of a number of corporations and as a consultant to industry.
