
 The UNIVERSITY of OKLAHOMA College of Arts and Sciences  Advancing Community Together.	Dean's Award for Community Impact Nomination Form
---	--

About the Award

The College of Arts and Sciences encourages students to become active community members while pursuing their academic studies. The Dean's Award for Community Impact is designed to recognize and honor a student whose exemplary dedication to community service has made a positive impact on the local, national, or international community.

Eligibility

Any student within the College of Arts and Sciences at the OU-Tulsa campus may be nominated for this award by a faculty or staff member. If nominated students choose to apply for the award, they will be asked to submit a resume and a one page essay on the importance of community service. A committee of community leaders will review these materials and select an awardee, who will be honored on May 9 at the OU-Tulsa CAS convocation reception with the Dean.
