

The College of Arts and Sciences Research Discussion Series Presents

Exploring Research Opportunities for Gender: International and Domestic

2:30-4:00p.m., Friday, October 12
132 Ellison Hall

Wenda K Bauchspies

Co-Director, Center for Gender in Global Context
Associate Professor, Community Sustainability
Michigan State University

Wenda K Bauchspies is Co-Director of the Center for Gender in Global Context and Associate Professor of Community Sustainability at Michigan State University. She was formerly a Program Director for Science, Technology and Society and Cultivating Cultures of Ethical STEM at the National Science Foundation (2015 - 2017) in the Social, Behavioral and Economic Directorate.

Bauchspies' research interests are diverse and center around gender, culture, science and technology. During the course of her career she has looked at women and schooling, everyday technologies of water and electricity, and adoptions/adaptions of agricultural innovations in Sub-Saharan Africa. At MSU, she teaches graduate courses that support the Gender, Justice and Environmental Change Graduate Specialization. Her research appears in journals including Social Epistemology, Subjectivity, FACETS, Journal of Asian and African Studies and Knowledge and Society.

Prior to joining the faculty at MSU in 2018, Dr. Bauchspies worked as a professor at Pennsylvania State University and Georgia Institute of Technology, as well as a senior social scientist for the International Crops Research Institute of the Semi-Arid Tropics. She earned her Ph.D. in Science and Technology Studies from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, an M.Ed. (Science Education) from the Towson State University, and a B.A. (Physics and Philosophy) from St. John's College.

Light refreshments will be served.
For accommodations, call (405) 325-4645.

