Conditions and Limitations of Participation in the Accelerated Degree Program

Now that you have been admitted to the ADP, you will be engaged, assessed, and graded as a graduate student, although you will remain an undergraduate student until your bachelor's degree has been conferred. You will not be considered a graduate student with regard to funding opportunities, such as graduate assistantships, until your undergraduate college has cleared you for graduation with the bachelor's degree and you have been admitted to the graduate portion of the ADP.

Once you are admitted to the graduate portion of the ADP, you must meet all requirements and deadlines for the master's degree outlined in the Graduate College Bulletin, such as submitting a Program of Study and applying for graduation.

Eligibility for graduate admission:

- During the final semester of your bachelor's degree, you will need to submit the online Addition or Change of Program form to apply for admission to the graduate portion of the ADP.
- You must meet the Graduate College admission criteria outlined in the Graduate College Bulletin to be eligible for admission to the graduate portion of the ADP. No exceptions will be made and conditional admission will not be permitted.

Grade point average (GPA) requirements:

- After admission to an accelerated degree program, you are required to maintain a 3.00 grade point average in each term.
- While you are in an undergraduate or graduate accelerated degree code, the Graduate College will monitor your GPA each term over all coursework completed in that term. The undergraduate college may also monitor your overall GPA to ensure undergraduate degree requirements are met.
- A term GPA less than 3.00 will result in academic dismissal from the ADP. If you are dismissed from the ADP, you may apply to the stand-alone master's program upon completion of the bachelor's degree, but you may not share any coursework applied to the bachelor's degree (see the Graduate College Bulletin for rules concerning master's degree credit taken prior to admission to a graduate program).

The following information should be completed by the student and verified by the undergraduate college advisor, undergraduate liaison (if applicable), and graduate liaison of the master's degree program. Any changes to the coursework indicated below will require submission of a new Accelerated Degree Graduate Coursework Plan.

To the student: List up to 12 hours of graduate coursework that you will share between your undergraduate and graduate degrees. Coursework taken before your semester of admission to the ADP cannot be shared. Please note that not all 4000-level classes carry graduate credit; those that do are indicated as “approved for graduate credit” in the OU Course Catalog.
