Youth Protection

Training for Non-University/Third Party Entities

The UNIVERSITY of OKLAHOMA

This training is intended to serve as guidance for working with youth as they engage in valuable experiences on campus. It may not encompass each and every encounter with a Youth and should be flexible depending on the circumstances.

In this lesson, you will review the rules, requirements, and best practices for everyone responsible for youth on campus. While most of this lesson focuses on Third Party sponsored events and programs, this content applies to all situations where youth are present on campus.

Third Party Sponsored Programs

In some situations, Third Parties such as schools, school districts, or extracurricular organizations may contact the University to use our space for events that include Youth.

If a University department agrees to provide space for this event, it must designate a departmental contact person who will be responsible for communicating University requirements to the Third Party sponsor of the event. The Third Party sponsors will be responsible for designating their own Head Supervisor to make sure Youths are adequately supervised and to serve as a point of contact.

Required Forms for Third Party Events

- Third Party sponsors must sign a Facilities Use Agreement from the University department providing space; a copy of this agreement should be provided to the University's designated campus Enterprise Risk Management office. The agreement will include the cost of the leased space, the minimum insurance requirements, and liability and indemnification language protecting the University from claims that may arise out of the event.
- The sponsor must also file Form A (Event Acknowledgement Form), with any necessary modifications.
- Ensure that the parents or legal guardians of the Youths attending the event file Form D (Youth's Release Form).
- Each sponsor must provide contact information for the event and submit all forms electronically to Risk Management prior to the event. If the event involves athletics on the Norman campus, the contact information and forms must be provided to the Event Management Office of the Department of Athletics.

Who is a Youth?

A Youth is anyone under the age of 18. This training applies to all Youths who are brought to campus by Third Party organizations, faculty, staff, students, or visitors.

This training does not apply to Youths who are enrolled in University courses. Concurrently enrolled high school students and enrolled University students under the age of 18 are subject to all applicable University policies, including the Student Code of Rights and Responsibilities.

Mandatory Reporting

Anyone who has reason to believe that a Youth is the victim of abuse or neglect is required by law to report it immediately. This reporting obligation is on the person who suspects abuse.

You do not have to know with certainty that abuse is taking place. You need only a reasonable belief or suspicion that child abuse has occurred. When in doubt, report it.

If you suspect a child is a victim of abuse or neglect, crimes, and/or violations of the OU Title IX Policy, contact the following:

- Oklahoma DHS Hotline: 1-800-522-3511
- Campus Police Department: 405-325-2864 (Norman), 405-271-4911 (HSC), 918-660-3900 (Tulsa)
- Title IX Office: 405-325-2215 (Norman), 405-271-2110 (HSC), 918-660-3107 (Tulsa)

Standard of Behavior

All people involved in programs for Youths are responsible for their own behavior around Youths. You must maintain the highest code of conduct when interacting with them. Every action you take must demonstrate a commitment to safety and trust.

When interacting with Youths it is important to remember these helpful standards of behavior:

- 1. Be friendly with Youths, but maintain discipline and discourage inappropriate behavior.
- 2. Conduct any necessary one-on-one interactions with Youths in a public environment where you can be observed.
- 3. Listen to Youths and provide positive reinforcement.
- 4. Be consistent and treat every Youth in a group fairly and with respect and dignity.
- 5. Be cognizant of how your words, actions, or intentions might be perceived and could be misinterpreted.
- 6. Consult with other adult supervisors if you feel uncertain about a situation.

Appropriate Touching

As a rule, do not touch Youths in a manner that a reasonable person could interpret as inappropriate. Appropriate touching that is generally acceptable includes

- shaking hands,
- high fives & hand slapping,
- hand signs & greetings,
- side hugs,
- and pats on the shoulder or back.

Any touching must be consented by the Youth and appropriate for the situation.

Inappropriate Touch

- Do not spend time alone with one Youth away from the group or conduct private interactions where you can't be seen.
- Don't engage in inappropriate touching or have any physical contact with a Youth in private locations.
- Don't strike or hit a Youth or use corporal punishment.

Inappropriate Behavior

- Don't use inappropriate language, tell risqué jokes, or make sexually suggestive comments around Youth.
- Don't give personal gifts or do special favors for a Youth or do things that may be seen as favoring one Youth over others.
- Don't relate to Youth as if they were peers and conduct private correspondence outside of program activities via email, text, or through social media.
- Don't date or become romantically or sexually involved with a Youth.
- Don't provide alcohol or drugs to Youth or use them in the presence of Youth.

Appropriate vs Inappropriate Behavior

Appropriate	Inappropriate
Giving a student a high-five after they set a personal best time running 50m	Touching a student on the shoulder while they pull away
Shaking a student's hand while teaching them to handle a job interview	Laughing when one student dumps soda over another
Encouraging a student enrolling at OU to consider a challenging degree program	Providing candy containing cannabis to a Youth experiencing anxiety
Instructing students to be quiet while a Model United Nations delegate speaks	Slapping a student's buttocks after scoring a run in softball
	Providing one-on-one tutoring with a student outside official hours

Explore: The Penn State Scandal

The Penn State Scandal is one of the most notorious university child abuse scandal in American history. It is a prime example of what can happen when people neglect their responsibility to report child abuse.

Beginning

The Penn State Scandal started with Jerry Sandusky, an assistant coach for the Penn State Nittany Lions football team, engaging in sexual abuse of children over a period of at least 15 years. The abuse may have begun as early as the 1970s.

Criminal Charges

On June 22, 2012, Sandusky was convicted of 45 counts of sexual abuse. He was sentenced to a minimum of 30 years and a maximum of 60 years in prison.

Impact

The school president, vice president, & athletic director were charged with perjury, obstruction of justice, failure to report suspected child abuse, and related charges, though some were later dropped.

Shortly after the scandal broke, the university president resigned and the Penn State Board of Trustees terminated the contracts of the athletic director and of the longtime head football coach.

Report

The Board of Trustees commissioned an independent investigation of the scandal. The Freeh Report stated that the President, Head Coach, Athletic Director, and Vice President had known about the child abuse allegations as early as 1998 and were complicit in failing to disclose them.

The investigation found a "total and consistent disregard by the most senior leaders at Penn State for the safety and welfare of Sandusky's child victims," which "empowered" Sandusky to continue his abuse.

Bringing Youths to University Events

The University hosts many events year-round where Youth from the surrounding community are welcome to visit. These could include University-sponsored events, Third Party sponsored events (including Registered Student Organizations), field trips and tours, or public events.

The following rules and guidelines do not apply to:

- Campus visits and attendance at public events in which the Youth is accompanied by their parent, adult family member or a responsible adult who is providing direct supervision of the Youth or Youths.
- Youth who are of legal driving age that attend events of their own accord. However, if a Youth wants to attend a Third Party or a University-sponsored event that is not open to the general public, they must have written permission from a parent/legal guardian to participate.
- Youth who are enrolled as students.

Supervision

Every Youth participating in a Third Party sponsored event must be supervised at all times.

Each event shall designate at least one person as a Head Supervisor and provide his or her contact information to the University. Head Supervisor must ensure all Youth are properly supervised and shall be the point of contact between the Event and the University.

Supervisors must be at least 18 years old. Youth may not supervise other Youth. Supervisors must maintain line of sight to all Youth under their supervision.

Overnight Supervision

Some situations may require Youth to stay overnight or camp on campus.* A Head Chaperone must be designated when the campers are staying overnight and must provide all contact numbers to the housing representative.

At least one chaperone must be on-call and present at all times to ensure that the Youth are secure in their rooms. Designated chaperones may not leave the premises once Youth are secure in their rooms. Smaller ratios for overnight supervision may be applicable where there are sufficient numbers of chaperones who are on call and they are able to maintain line of sight to the campers' rooms.

*Due to Covid-19 Restrictions, no overnight camps will be allowed in the Summer of 2021

Background Checks

All supervisors must have annual criminal and sexual offender background checks. For information on how to obtain a criminal and sex offender background check contact the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigations https://osbi.ok.gov/.

Each University student working a University-sponsored event must have completed a student misconduct check through the University Student Conduct Office within the past six (6) months. Email an Excel spreadsheet with the student's first name, last name, ID number (without spaces or dashes) to studentconduct@ou.edu.

Transportation

Your Entity must have a plan for how students will be dropped off and picked up from campus, and drop-off and pick-up procedures should be followed at all times. Only release Youth to approved persons; you must require identification from all persons picking up students. Parents must give written/verbal consent to your Head Supervisor for students to transport themselves or to ride with friends. Do not leave any Youths unattended. Contact Campus Police if a Youth is not picked up on time.

Security Measures

The Head Supervisor should conduct a security and safety briefing addressing inclement weather procedures and fire and safety evacuation procedures. Ensure that all Youth are identified as part of a group to help make sure none are overlooked in the event of an emergency. This identification must be appropriate to the age of the participant and the nature of the event, such as name tags with the event name and contact information.

If any Youth is injured during the program, other than Youth scrapes, bumps and bruises, it must be reported to the Head Supervisor and contact 911 for emergency assistance. Eliminate any known hazards immediately to ensure Youths' safety.

Exceptions and Unique Scenarios

Generally, Youth should not be secluded with an adult supervisor. However, there are circumstances in which this situation will occur. These could include

- One-on-one sports or arts lessons.
- Youth in plays and performances.

In these circumstances, the Youth should either be accompanied by their parent or legal guardian, or this oneon-one situation should transpire in a location where others can see the supervisor or instructor with the Youth or where the area is frequented by other people.

High Risk Areas

Youth are not allowed in the following high-risk areas:

- Labs, shops, studios, mechanical rooms, power plants, garages, animal facilities, food prep areas & high security areas.
- Indoor or outdoor areas containing power tools or machinery with exposed moving parts.
- University vehicles, boats, aircraft, grounds equipment, farm equipment, heavy duty or other motorized equipment.
- Stairwells, rooftops, constructions zones or other high-risk areas.

For Programs on the HSC campus that may involve laboratory experience, please see the additional policies discussed on the Youth Protection page at https://risk.ouhsc.edu.

Student Guidelines

There are some situations where students may feel the need to bring their children or other Youth to campus. In these cases, the student must have faculty member approval to have the Youth present. The same criteria apply as before: The student must maintain line-of-sight supervision of the Youth at all times, and the Youth may not be disruptive to others. Youth may only be allowed into the classroom with the permission of the faculty member, and if the Youth becomes disruptive, the student and Youth may be required to leave.

Visitor Guidelines

Visitors frequently bring Youth to the University, such as for campus tours or family events. The parent, guardian, or other adult responsible for those children must maintain line of sight of the Youth or Youths they are supervising at all times. They must assure that the Youth are not disruptive to others and do not damage or tamper with University property. They must not leave Youth unattended including when they are at athletic events or other public events.

Clery Act and Reporting Clery Crimes

What is the Clery Act?

The Clery Act is a federal law requiring colleges and universities that receive federal financial aid to disclose certain crime statistics and policies regarding safety and security programs to the campus community on an annual basis. Any crimes witnessed by you or reported to you must be reported to the respective campus's Police Department. They are responsible for compiling and providing information to meet our requirements under the Clery Act.

Supervising third-party members working with Youth Protection have this same obligation. It is your responsibility to make sure all members of your group are aware of this obligation and to familiarize themselves with responsibilities and reporting links noted below:
