Najah will lead us through a workshop focused on the ideas of bringing change through writing. In what ways can the process of writing poems help change our minds and hearts? Once we are changed, in what ways can poetry help change the minds and hearts of those in power? Najah will read from her own work about transformation as well as providing strategies for making our poetry more impactful to those who do the changing.

Najah-Amatullah is a lifelong writer and performer. She teaches secondary English language arts in Oklahoma City and is pursuing a master's in literature from the University of Central Oklahoma. She is working on social media- and poetry-enhanced secondary curriculum, and a video podcast about teaching.
