Course Objectives:

- students will become thoroughly familiar with the format and usage of the DSM
- students will understand basic concepts of diagnosis including some of the methods used to arrive at a diagnosis
- Student will develop the understanding of ethical considerations in clinical decision making.
- Student will understand the relationship of diagnostics to treatment planning

Course Outline:

First weekend:

- Orientation to DSM overall
- Evaluation styles and elements to gather clinical diagnostic information
- Mental status exam
- Multiaxial diagnosis
- Self-diagnosis assignment explained
- Major categories of diagnoses will be reviewed

Second weekend:

- Continues review of all major categories of diagnosis
- Continued practice assessing
- in class treatment class exercise
- Final exam in class last day of class

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

1. Student will review one scholarly article that relates to the development or usage of the DSM and its reliability in diagnosis. (Bring to first class for discussion, no more than 2 pages).
2. Student will complete an exercise in self-diagnosis and turn it into the dropbox prior to the second weekend. A rubric will be provided.
3. Student will demonstrate interview techniques effective in assessment for diagnosis including mental status exam and general clinical interviewing relevant to diagnosis. These will be through guided experiential exercises during class.
4. Student will outline a treatment plan with measurable outcomes based upon diagnostic criteria. (Developed in class with small group, 1 page outline)
5. Student will write reflectively about factors which may impact their own diagnostic skills
6. Student will complete a final exam in last class consisting of diagnostic formulations for hypothetical client case scenarios.

As graduate students in Human Relations, it is required that APA format be utilized in written assignments complete with references. The text will be utilized for reference and students will need to use in class.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution's policy regarding "I" (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any "I" (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on "financial aid probation." If the "I" grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student's Financial Aid may be suspended making the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc...in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc...; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student's Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at <http://studentconduct.ou.edu/>

Accommodation Statement
