Dear Colleagues,

The College of Professional and Continuing Studies (PACS) invites applications for the position of Associate Dean. This visionary leader will champion PACS's five core values: being student-centered, service-oriented, quality-driven, innovative, and with a commitment to the highest standards of integrity. Through this internal search, we seek an Associate Dean in PACS to be a leader in:

1. Collaboration and Communication, including maintaining strong relationships within PACS and with OU Educational Services and OU Online while building new interdisciplinary connections campus-wide.
2. Faculty support within PACS, including consistently providing avenues for professional development and growth, being fair and accountable with issues, implementing policies and procedures to ensure effective program operation, and further advocating for faculty with the Dean.
3. Innovation and vision, working alongside the Dean to envision growth and implement new programs within the college.

Applications must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/166964>. Review of materials will begin on May 26. For questions, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Benjamin Heddy, at heddy@ou.edu.

Sincerely,
